Community Art Workshop

Art Mentoring Program for Youth

Community Art Workshop at
Yema Gallery

540b Freeman Street, Orange, NJ 07050

About our Mentors

The mentors in our program are talented crafters and professional artists with years of experience and expertise. One thing that makes our mentors so special is their desire to share their artistic skill with a young person interested in learning something new and challenging. Participating students will have the opportunity to work with more than one mentor so they can learn about various types of crafts and visual art.

CAW is a program of

ARTSETC

A NJ Nonprofit Organization

This program is funded in part by a grant from Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs through funding made possible from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

CAW

The Community Art Workshop (CAW) is a mentoring program for youth. In our program students work with a professional artist and learn about the visual arts, fiber arts and various crafts. We offer classes in sewing, knitting, crochet, jewelry-making and weaving. Our goal is to build self-esteem, pride and confidence in youth by teaching them a practical skill they can enjoy and use throughout their lives. Young people between the ages of 10-18 years are eligible to participate in the program. As students advance in their skill and ability they, too can become mentors and share what they've learned with others like themselves. Participating in the CAW mentoring program is an exciting opportunity to learn a skill that can grow into a viable practice, career, even a business. Classes are held at Yema Gallery the 2nd and 4th Saturdays from 1-3PM during the spring, summer and fall.

Space is limited.
